Elks To Observe Freedom Week

Belle Glade Elks Lodge No. 1716 will observe Freedom Week January 14-19, saluting freedom of speech and of the press. Exalted Ruler, Lee Berryhill announced today, Freedom Week will be celebrated by Elks Lodge throughout the country as part of the postwar Americanism program of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

"We think that in the struggle with communism too much attention has been paid to what we are against and we are in danger of losing sight of what we are fighting for and why we are for it," Exalted Ruler Berryhill declared. "During Freedom Week, we hope to bring home to the people of our community a fuller realization that freedom of speech and of the press are the basic freedoms on which our way of life depends."

Special tributes will be paid during Freedom Week to newspapers, broadcasting stations, magazines and books and to the men and women who are in these areas of communication. Plans for the Freedom Week observance are being drafted by a committee headed by H. V. Draa.

"This freedom is working every time we read a newspaper or magazine, listen to the radio, watch a television program, borrow a book at the library or buy one at a bookstore," Exalted Ruler Berryhill declared.

Dressed Up And Proud City Fathers

Why "Dressed Up and Proud?" Well, Belle Glade has needed a bridge, even bridges, across the Hillsboro Canal within the City limits, and "By Golly, what it took to get ONE, the City Fathers had! Police Chief Charlie Goodlett, took one or two City employees and prison labor and built it. After waiting sometime for delivery of needed materials, at a reported cost "to the taxpayers of about $7,000."

It's on a permit as a "temporary" bridge, but we are of the opinion that many yet unborn will hobble across it in their old age!

The City, in this instance, couldn't keep up with progress, but they're trying to "stay out of it's way."

The public can travel two ways on the bridge - north and south.

Soldier-Groceryman

MAJ. GEN. EVANS

The General will come into the Glades this morning from Pompano as a part of regular visits to field procuring offices throughout the country, and will visit fields to see first hand just where and how the foodstuffs his "boys - and girls" get - Army, Navy, Air Force or Marine.

A line soldier in his early service, following graduation from West Point, Maj. Gen. Thomas Bowes Evans became intrigued with groceries for the soldier through assignments involving this phase of the military service.

Professional education to supplement West Point and the Armed Forces Staff College included a Masters' Degree in Business Administration from Stanford.

Service assignments have covered the field in military foodstuffs and brought the General to head DSS C - Defense Subsistence Supply Agency - which purchases and distributes some $850 million annually from pole to pole and covering all equatorial time areas.

The DSSC office located in Belle Glade during the shipping season buys several millions worth of Glades crops annually. The Armed Forces buyers are always welcome to any sales agency in the Glades for they know that "top quality and top price" is what the Services get under General Evans' direction.

There are not too many customers of the size represented by the General who visit the Glades and an opportunity to welcome "a good cash customer" should be sought by all. Anyhow, Welcome General - Come back to see us: try some of our freshwater fishing. The specks make good eating and Lake Okechobee bass are peers of the breed.

"Effie Allen Fund" To Recognize Years Of Community Helpfulness

The effective consideration of its citizens for their fellow man marks well the standing of any community. In a pioneering community opportunities to demonstrate this consideration come often.

Mrs. Effie Allen, Glades pioneer of 25, who has for so many years done so much to alleviate the suffering and hardship of others, has been stricken by the hand of fate with a malignancy, pronounced in its terminal stages.

A small insurance policy pays but a minimum toward the mounting bills for prolonged hospital care.

In recognition of years of unselfish service, particularly with hospitalized war veteran, migrants and indigents her friends and co-workers have taken steps toward establishing an "EFFIE ALLEN FUND."

Mrs. J. L. Price and Mrs. R. W. Griffin of Belle Glade, and Mr. Henry Elfers of South Bay have been designated as a committee to disburse these funds for hospital and doctor care. It is reported the doctor in charge, in appreciation of Mrs. Allen's efforts, has agreed to reduce his fee. Even so, bills are mounting far beyond the family's ability to pay.

She has served as president

Bridge of Sighs - Sighs of Relief

Various administrations of the City of Belle Glade have discussed, cussed, planned and actually bought materials for this bridge at Second Street and the Hillsboro over the years. One Commission sat by and allowed a city alley to be appropriated after it had been in public use for three times the necessary seven years and after the main water lines had been put in it. Second street at present is a restricted street, though an important cog in the downtown traffic.

Now comes the present administration and buys materials to complete the bridge, and Chief of Police Goodlett put on his overalls and took prison labor and built it as a "temporary" installation, and two-way traffic has begun.

The Mayor says, "I want to thank those individuals who helped in the securing of materials and actually did the work; there appeared to be a desire on the part of all City employees who were called on to see that the bridge was built in a hurry and as economically as possible. The cost to the taxpayers, for materials appears to be about $7,000, and the labor was done by City Employees and prison labor."

The Mayor, along with Vice-Mayor Williams and Commissioner Davidson, January and Berriah rode in the Mayor's 1927 Ford, followed by Skipper Schoepel in Eddie's old Chevy. As a companion LeBron Williams' jet age Cadvy is bringing up the rear.

Those the Mayor wishes to thank are: Charlie Goodlett, Frank Anderson, Tom Pennington, Toby Shiver, Mr. Lanier and Mr. Abel and former City Manager, Owens, who participated.

Attractive You BY ALBERTA CULVER

Glamour and glasses! Yes the two do go beautifully together if you choose a flattering style frame in a color that really is becoming. What color frames are best for you? Well, the only way to find out is to try on a variety of colors and styles. Choose the glasses that go with your complexion, your eyes, your hair. Neutral shades are nice for daily wear. The amber and tortoise frames go well with brunettes. Pastel and art deco shades flatter blondes and redheads. It's a good idea to have at least two pairs of your regular glasses plus a pair prescription sun glasses. If your budget allows another pair, try the jewel-trimmed, very or golden-colored frames for those very dressy occasions. Use emeralds and rubies, but use it carefully. Be sure make-up and rouge are smoothly blended. That means blending above lower rims of glasses. Choose frames that go with your eyebrow line. Double cheek makeup and eye shadow after you put your glasses back on. Lenses can magnify and change the look of your make-up. Glasses are like a lovely accessory... so don't overdo with fuzzy hair styles, fancy hats and elaborate earrings. A soft, feminine hair style is the perfect setting. Since glasses do draw attention to your hairdo as well as your eyes and face you do want to keep your hair beautifully groomed at all times. One of the easiest and best ways to set your hair with a special setting lotion after shampooing. You'll find that a product such as Get Set makes setting and styling far easier. To find the best hair style... try arranging your hair different ways. But please remember... keep it simple.

Let the shape of your face be your guide in selecting styles of frames. The different types of hairline frames go well with the heart-shaped and square face. Tilted, upward frames go fine for the round and oblong face. Round frames are interesting for the thin face. It's sometimes helpful to take a friend along when you try on glasses. The way others see you in your glasses can help you decide which to buy.

Mrs. David Motes with her emphasis of the month made us more aware of the need for more Christian action in our church and community. Mrs. Urban Felsing moderated the Bible Study on the Beatitudes and Matthew 8:1-17.

Circle No. 4
Circle 4, Palokree met Monday, Jan. 7 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mae Laffin in Canal Point. Mrs. Laffin presided and gave the devotion on "Happy New Year." Mrs. W. K. Everyone is to keep blessing his at home for the birthday fund; there will be no general meetings for the remainder of the year except for special occasions; the project of curtains for the Sunday School is still active.

Mrs. A. S. Lynn, Spiritual Growth Chairman, announced that the Bible Study of Jeremiah, "Hammer on the Rock" will begin Sunday night Jan. 13 at the home of Mrs. I. L. Price. The circle decided to give their free will offerings to the certain fund. Miss Nina Briggs, who is with the children's Bible Missions, brought the Bible Study to the group.

Talks With Teens On Love, Courtship, Marriage

One of the features of this great revival effort will be "Talks with Teens" conducted each night by Dr. E. J. Daniels, our evangelist.

"Love, Courtship and Marriage" problems will be the general basis of the discussion each night. Dr. Daniels has written three books on marriage problems and has helped thousands of young people and married couples to find greater happiness. In announcing the youth services, Dr. Daniel said: "We train our young people to be secretaries, businessmen, doctors, lawyers and even ministers, but send them out to do one of the most important jobs ever. It is any wonder that two out of five marriages end in divorce?"

Dr. Daniels discusses the moral social and sex problems facing the young people today. Parents should help their children attend these TALKS each night at 7:15.

A Code . . . For Family Living

These truths we will remem-God wants us to be:
1. God made us a family.
2. To understand and love one another.
3. To make amends for any wrong to the other.
4. To forgive one another gladly.
5. To be of the greatest possible help to each other.
These should be our aims:
1. To be the kind of family

Read Luke 10:25-37

The Pharisees and the scribes murmured, saying, "This man receives sinners and eats with them." (Luke 15:2, rev.)

My neighbors, Tiburcio Marentes and his wife Marcel, spoke no English, and I understood little Spanish; but when I was sick, Marcel would prepare food for me and come and sit with me. Many neighborhood deeds were exchanged between us. Kindness is a universal language.

Seeking to preserve the facts of the life of Jesus, the Greek physician Luke emphasized the compassion of our Lord for all persons without regard for nationality, race, or creed. Nationality and status were unimportant as Luke told of the healing of the centurion's servant; the cleansing of the lepers, one of whom was a Samaritan; the curing of the madman in the country of the Gadarenes.

The compassion of Jesus for all humanity, especially for the poor and unfortunate, is given prominence in the Gospel of Luke. He sights case after case in which Jesus put forth His hand and persons were made whole.

PRAYER: Our Father, we are thankful for the preservation of the words and deeds of Thy Son. We pray that we may heed His words each day, as we strive to become more merciful neighbors. In Thy blessed Son's name we pray. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Kindness is understood everywhere; I will express it to someone today.

Churches of Christ Scientist

The Apostle Luke's inspiring account of the raising of the widow's son from the dead will be heard at Christian Science services Sunday. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Life". The Golden Text is from "Matthew (4:4): 'It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.'"

Passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this selection (9:547): "The Scriptures are very sacred. Our aim must be to have them understood spiritually, for they will include this understanding, a truth be gained." And continuing on the same page: "It is this spiritual perception of Scripture, which lifts humanity out of disease and death and inspires faith."

Offers Eva Gabor
On January 21st

The 1963 season at Frank J. Hale's Royal Poinciana Playhouse gets off to a brilliant start Monday night, January 21, with the gala opening of Eva Gabor in "A Shot in the Dark."

Miss Gabor, youngest of the "three most beautiful sisters in the world," is a beautiful, talented and vivacious young woman whose energy is unbounded and whose enthusiasm is invariably at a high peak.

Featured with Miss Gabor will be Eric Berry as the suave, debonair and slightly stuffy Monsieur Beaurevers with whom Josefa has become involved; Donald Murphy as the unhappy magistrate who must attempt to prosecute Josefa, while helplessly captivated by her; and Joan Wetmore as the third point of the triangle, Mme. Beaurevers.

Army Pvt. Jarvis C. Lowder, son of Mrs. Nellie M. Lowder, South Bay, Fla., recently completed eight weeks of advanced individual infantry training at the U. S. Army Training Center, Fort Gordon, Ga. Circle T Ranch Rodeo

Coming out of the shoots the hard way a cowboy is about to experience the tough part of Rodeo rather than the big prize money he entered for. The 16th annual Circle T Ranch Rodeo is to be held February 9th and 10th in Indianola and is expected to attract over 9,000 spectators and will star top riders from the western states and Florida. Featured at the 2 hour Rodeo will be the traditional five Rodeo events, bull riding, saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, steer roping and steer wrestling.

The 18th annual Circle T Ranch Rodeo will take place February 9th and 10th in the new Rodeo Bowl at Indianola. It was announced today by G. C. Troup, owner of the Circle T and producer of one of the state's most exciting sports events.

The annual Circle T Rodeo, one of the best known in the nation, draws an annual crowd in excess of 9,000, to watch cowboys ride and rope for the rodeo purse.

While cowboys come to the Circle T Rodeo from all over the country, most of the stock is bred and raised on the sprawling Circle T Ranch at Indianola, 35 miles N. W. of Palm Beach on Highway 710. According to Troup, the bucking horses used in the rodeo are wild spirits that have refused to become saddle broken and are kept by the ranch only for rodeo purposes. Cow ponies used by the horseman, however, in the calf roping and wrestling events are highly trained animals used in the daily work of the competing cowboys.

Troup stated that the cattle industry, from which rodeo has derived, is almost four centuries old in the United States; and that the first cattle herds and cowboys of the new world appeared in Florida with Ponce de Leon. Since that time, cattle have remained an important part of the Florida scene.

With the introduction of Brahma stock that can withstand Florida's heat and ticks. The wild and ferocious Brahmas have also put new life into the major rodeo event, bull riding. This phase of rodeo had been dropped when selective cattle breeding replaced the light and mean longhorns with a milder breed.

Troup also stated that Rodeo, which is far older than its name, is the oldest sport in the United States as well as its only native one. Baseball which is commonly thought of as an American sport is actually derived from a game played with sticks and a ball in England during the late 17th century.

He also stated that Rodeo is the only sport in the nation that has derived from an industry, and is probably without doubt the most dangerous one.

A new 7,000 ft. airstrip has recently been built at Indianola within walking distance of the Rodeo Bowl and is available to spectators that come by private aircraft.

There's 1/2 Million In Florida Fish Just Swimm' Around
Fish in Florida water will be sporting valuable money in the drawing up of plans for the new Schlitz $500,000 Florida Fishing Derby, the third annual recreation and research event.

Conducted with the cooperation of the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and the Florida State Board of Conservation, the derby is sponsored and financed by the Schlitz Brewing Co.

Awards in the 1963 derby will range from $25 to $10,000. It will follow in general the pattern of the two previous derbies with certain innovations to provide greater incentives to fishermen.

This year, all uncaptured "old" derbies which are brought in will be worth at least $25. And a number of the "old" fish will be designated for local conservation awards of $500 and $1,000. It is hoped this innovation will bring in fish that will be valuable from a research standpoint.

Some 2,000 tagged fish were caught in the 1962 Schlitz derby for total awards of approximately $54,000. Two of the $1,000 fish were caught in 1961, one by Ned English of Tampa and a salt water drum by John Beamon of Daytona Beach.

The 1963 Festival will be held the weekend of February 23, March 1 and 2 and 3. A talent contest will be held Friday, March 1st. The parade and Azalea Ball will take place on Saturday, March 2nd. The beauty contest and crowning of the 1963 Azalea Queen will be on Sunday, March 3rd.

vegetables are relatively expensive sources of vitamin A, because they contain such small amounts of it. For instance, you'd have to eat about 7 cups of corn — or 3 or 4 cups of peas — to get as much vitamin A as you would in one-fourth of a carrot. Both corn and peas usually cost much more than carrots, whatever the season.

Hospital For Retarded Children
May Be Located In Palm Beach Co.

Palm Beach County is scheduled to offer the state a site for a proposed hospital for care of retarded children — an institution which the state hopes to build in South Florida.

The commission has given Chairman Lake Lytal authority to contact Governor Farris Bryant and other county owned lands as a location for the proposed hospital.

Lytal said original plans had been to build the institution in Broward County but some difficulty is being experienced in finding a site in that area.

The commission chairman said the hospital is badly needed, and it will offer employment for a number of people.

CHEVROLET...the Quality truck!

WALK AROUND IT. SEE THE DIFFERENCES.

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two wide hinges hold it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't settle or mar paint.

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You can't dent the inside one but it won't show through. The floor will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double walled and the roof is insulated. Let's start 'er up and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver. There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. What would you like us to deliver it?

Future Farmer Day At Tampa Fair On Saturday, Feb. 9

More than 3,000 Future Farmers of America will have their big annual special day at the Florida State Fair here Saturday, Feb. 9, and David Brenneke of Winter Haven, state president, has promised "never a dull moment" in a diversified program of education and entertainment.

FFA, the organization of farm boys studying vocational agriculture, has 170 chapters in Florida, and all will be represented at their largest single yearly gathering.

A special guest will be Miss Frances Smith of Havana, Fla., a student at Huntington College, Montgomery, Ala., recently chosen State FFA sweetheart.

New Boss Engineer At Canaveral

Maj. Gen. Alvin C. Welling will become South Atlantic Division Engineer, and Col. George A. Finley will head the new Corps of Engineers District to be created in the Cape Canaveral area, it was announced today by Lt. Gen. W. K. Wilson, Jr., Chief of Engineers in Washington.

Gen. Welling who will succeed Brig. Gen. H. A. Morris, effective the latter part of February, will supervise the South Atlantic Division, whose headquarters are in Atlanta, and six district offices located in Jacksonville, Fla.; Cape Canaveral, Fla.; Charleston, S. C.; Wilmington, N. C.; Savannah, Ga., and Mobile, Ala.

Smoke Eating Shetlands At PB Fair

Six "smoke-eating" Shetland ponies performing difficult maneuvers with machine-like accuracy will appear at the South Florida Fair and Exposition, Jan. 25-March 2, 1963.

These popular ponies — of the Victor Comptometer Corporation Six-Pony Hitch — put on a fast-stepping exhibition of teamwork and skill that outlines the brilliance of their chrome-plated harnesses and flashily replica of an antique fire engine steam pump.

The customer built vehicle they pull is an authentic five-eighths scale model of an old-time steam pump fire engine. The ponies — real stars of the Victor Fire Department — have been trained to respond as if to their driver's every command. Raised on Fernwood Farm, Richton, Illinois, (just north of Chicago) they are placed in training when two years old.

During their first six weeks they are taught to stop, turn, and back to. Next, the Shetlands are paired and taught to work as a team. Gradually the crew steps up to four and finally a complete six-pony hitch. At the end of six months intensive training, they are ready to ride the show circuit.

The ponies range from 42 to 46 inches in height and weigh from 350 to 450 pounds. The lightest pair leads and does most of the running. The medium or middle pair are classified as the team and turn the wagon. The heaviest pair, known as wheel ponies, do most of the pulling and supply the weight necessary to make quick stops.

The Victor Six-Pony Hitch was performed as a specialty act at rodeos, horse shows, fairs, and charity events throughout the United States and Canada.

The Use And Misuse Of Pesticides

Dr. Townsend — is a practicing scientist in the field of Agricultural Research, particularly with seeds, plants, disease control, fertilizer, cultivation practices and breeding that have a major affinity to the Glades.

His years of association with the Everglades Experiment Station following his professional education, led him into private practice in his own field and laboratory.

This talk was delivered to Belle Glade Rotary Friday, January 11th and is of immediate and important interest. We asked permission to offer it to our readers.

It will be presented in installments.

By Dr. G. K. Townsend
You may ask, what is a pesticide? Pesticides are chemicals that kill or suppress pests. Any form of plant or animal life that causes an economic or health hazard to man's dominant position in the world is considered a pest. These may be insects, fungi, weeds, or rodents. Pesticides include all the insecticides, fungicides, herbicides, and rodenticides that make possible the abundance and quality of modern agricultural products, and reduce the threat of such diseases as malaria, typhus and encephalitis.

These groups seek ever stronger regulation of pesticide usage, and would cripple agriculture if they succeed.

This year the attack has been particularly acute because of the publication in October of a book by Rachel Carson. You may have read her earlier book "The Sea Around Us." This book has had extensive favorable reviews in metropolitan newspaper and magazines, and has been selected as a recommended book by the Book of the Month Club. Judging it on its contents and the promotion it has received, it would appear that the book is intended to have the effect of an atomic bomb on the chemical pesticide industry.

We may have Castro to thank for this. This didn't come off as planned since the public had Cuba on its mind at the time. Nevertheless the book will be read extensively by persons not acquainted with the facts and its emotional appeal is expected to generate legislative action in Congress. Miss Carson has already been to Washington to plead her case.

Rachel Carson is a very skillful writer and has compounded a hair-raising tale, "Silent Spring" which cannot be regarded as a scientific report because it presents only a dramatic failure of pesticides, and accounts of their unwise use in the earlier periods of their development.

She says nothing about the great benefits that are being derived from their use, but quotes all the dies who have a special cause to plead.

But is padded by repeated quote of the same source. She has also quoted scientists out of context, so that they seem to say what she wants them to say. Many of her references are to testimony before Congressional committees in the early 1950's when the present regulatory measures were being debated, and are the opinions of food faddists.

ATTENTION, ALL BOYS!

Would a coy cruise to the North Pole appeal to you? Do you dream of scaling Mount Everest, and rue the day that Hillary beat you to it? Would you like to go into orbit — for real? If your answer is "yes" to any of these, or even "maybe," there is a book for you in this trio: Americans Into Orbit. Gurney, The B-24 is obsolete. The same trend of scientific and technical advancement which made it so has transformed Cape Canaveral from a spit of sand known only to fishermen into an American passport. Project Mercury, Alan Shepard, the Van Allen Belts, the Aurora 7, a glossary of space age terms — all are featured in Gurney's well illustrated book. The would-be astronaut will find here a selected list of significant satellites and space probes, complete with names and dates. All about Mountains and Mountaineering. While the mountains hold a special fascination for the lowland tenant. One quarter of the world's surface is covered with these monsters, and the residents of the rest of the surface are drawn to the heights as though by a magnet. There is safety there for the future, sport for the hearty, healing atmosphere for the sick, and inspiration for the poet. This is a well-written account of how the mountains came to be, and of the men who try to conquer them.

The Story of Submarines. Weller, 23:15 hours, August 3, 1958 was a significant moment in Naval history. "A cheer ran down the narrow passages as the Nautilus plowed on, over the top of the world." Here is a suspense-filled, true-life story of the submarine from the waning days of World War II to the nuclear-powered present. You will enjoy reading this one.

Chickens-Feathered High In Protein

Although most homemakers acclaim chicken as their most economical meat buy, they are not generally aware of its nutritional advantages.

Miss Mary Todd, Home Demonstration Agent, says a recent survey by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station showed that many Houston housewives erroneously believe chicken is nutritionally inferior to beef. She says they did not know that (on the basis of the nutrient content in the average of common cuts of both meats, pound for pound) chicken is higher in beef in protein, lower in calories, and higher in the important B vitamins.

They did, however, consider chicken a good meat for serving both to their families and to visiting guests in most entertaining situations. They liked it because it's easy to prepare, and economical, and because they have good success cooking it.

Also "everyone seems to like chicken," they said.

The Comptroller also said that December collections based on

If Wide-Track is as hot as Pontiac says, why don't they put it in their Tempest?

They just did.

We can take a hint. When people are as happy with something as Pontiac owners are with Wide-Track, we're willing - nay, eager - to let everybody else in on it. That's why Tempest has a Wide-Track of its own this year. It's why you get to choose between a Buick 4 and a 326-cu. in. V-6 too. We aim to please - and if we do say so, we're pretty accurate.

Now there are two kinds of Wide-Track cars... Pontiac and Tempest

1963 RAMBLER WINS "CAR OF THE YEAR" AWARD

from Motor Trend Magazine

Each year the automobile industry eagerly awaits the selection of one car as
"Car of the Year" by Motor Trends impartial experts. For 1963, this most-wanted, hardest-to-get honor goes to Rambler...for outstanding design achievement and engineering leadership. Read why Rambler won this prized award over all other cars.

Here are some of the experts' reasons:

"New styling is based on lean, clean lines that are apparent from almost any angle."

"Motor Trend's Car of the Year proves their mettle in actual testing, confirm their engineering excellence, reliability, sturdiness and performance."

"Quality has always been one of American Motors' largest selling points."

"In unitized bodies, which American Motors pioneered, this latest design represents a real advancement... biggest single reason we chose Rambler Car of the Year."

"This new construction method results in a unit so strong it'll take punishment longer and naturally hold its resale value."

"The interiors of both the Classic and Ambassador are roomy and comfortable... offer plenty of legroom."

"A good safety device. Self-adjusting brakes and dual master cylinders... if one system fails, the other brings the car to a safe stop."

"Trunk is large. Low loading lip makes it simple to load."

"Our Classic... with the rugged, ohv-in-line Six... gave a high of 36.7 mpg highway and 23.4."

"A sportier, more performance-oriented vehicle, the Ambassador V-8 should satisfy the wants of the Rambler buyer who favors performance."

"There isn't any pitch or chopiness noticeable even on rough roads."

"Summing up... it looks like the new Rambler will be an even better buy than it has been in previous years."

Why don't you look at the 1963 Rambler? Best-selling Rambler ever built!

Agriculturally Speaking

Glades Area

Several questions came up at our recent growers' meeting that we feel should be discussed at this time. The first question on the affect of foggy morning and heavy dews on disease development. Dr. Paul Tseyer, of the Everglades Experiment Station, reported since most diseases caused by bacteria and fungi require moisture to be present before invasion of the plant can occur, therefore, the longer the plant is wet the greater the probability of invasion. For this reason it is most important to keep the foliage of the plants protected by sprays at all times when fogs or heavy dews are likely to occur.

Another problem brought to light was the formation of soft rot of corn at the base of the ear and shank. Dr. Case Wehlberg stated it was caused by a bacterium and that he had observed this condition on corn. At the present time has no specific control for this disease.

So there will be heavy plantings of sweet corn of spring planting. We would like to caution growers that some type of wire worm control should be put down before planting especially if there has not been a treatment for wire worms applied earlier in the year. Dr. Emmett Harris reported at the last growers' meeting that there are present as many worms in the soil now as earlier in the fall months and growers should not take the chance of planting their corn crops without first treating. He recommended Aldrin or Parathion at the rate of 5 pounds actual per acre applied as a broadcast spray to the soil two weeks prior to planting. This material should be disked in deep as soon as applied so as to thoroughly incorporate it into the soil throughout the area infested.

Now for the home gardener — It is time to think about that nutritional spray on ornamental plants and fruit trees. Your garden supply dealer will have the materials already mixed in the correct proportion and ready to be used as according to the label. It should contain zinc, copper and manganese and should be applied usually between January 15th and February 15th or may be added to the post bloom spray of citrus applied in March or April. The main thing is to put it on as it will supply the plants with enough of these minor elements to take care of their normal requirements.

Fertilize your fruit trees and other shrubs also during January or February and apply to the entire rooting area which usually extends well beyond the drip of the tree. A mixture of 0-12-16 which contains minor elements should be applied at the rate of two-third pounds per year of age of the tree up to 10 years, and 1 pound for each year thereafter for citrus trees. For shrubs use 2 pounds per 100 sq. ft. of ground area.

UNCLE DAN from DOODLE says:

Dear Mister Editor:
The fellers at the country store Saturday night was working on a new idea, one that might give your editorial support.

Ed Doodlie claims they ain't but one hope for this country and that's to vote down on the size of the Congress. For instance, says Ed, Senators is too expensive and allows as how we could get along fine with just one from each state.

Clem Webster was strong in favor of this motion, said he was reading a piece in the papers last November where one Senator, at Government expense, mailed out 300,000 letters getting re-elected. Zeke Grubb said now that we was getting down to the root of all evil, we ought to cut the number of them House members to half of what we now got. He claims ever state could retire half their House members without costing nothing in efficiency and we then could probable pay off the national debt in 10 year.

Isaac Cornforde allowed as how, now that we was trimming the horse's tail, we ought to set a time limit on how long each session them fellers could set for business. For instance, he said he was reading where them Congressmen didn't do nothing the last week they was in session. Them that wasn't at home working for re-election was reclining on their office sofas.

He said he saw a piece where Senator Young of Ohio looked around one day at the end of the session and they wasn't a single Republican present, so he got up and said, "Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to abolish the Republican Party." The
